Dear Mary Ellen,

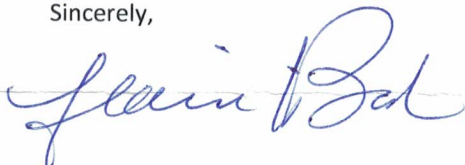

Thank you for Fairlawn Avenue United Church's generous contributions to CRC | Regent Park Community Food Centre this year. Your contributions, to our general programs and our Culinary Skills Training program, are tremendously important and will make a significant impact on people living in Regent Park and Toronto's Downtown East.

Your support of our general programs are helping CRC deliver wrap-around services that include free, healthy and delicious meals, affordable, supported housing, peer advocacy services, drop-in programs like knitting, mindfulness, art and music clubs, free showers and laundry services, and cultural celebrations that bring people together in our inclusive and welcoming Community Hub space. You are also supporting skill-building programs such as garden-to-table workshops that help children, adults and seniors learn how to cook affordable, healthy meals from scratch, using local ingredients, including some grown here in Regent Park.

Our Culinary Skills Training Program supports individuals with pre-employment training to help them enter or move up in Toronto's culinary industry. Various programs include Caterer Enterprise Training, Sustainable Food Sector Training and Safe Food Handlers Certification Training. We also provide youth-focused culinary skills training. Your generous support is helping us teach business skills like invoicing, budgeting, computer literacy, labour law, and time management, as well as professional kitchen skills like food styling and presentation, kitchen math (large batch recipes), menu planning, cooking techniques and terminology, knife skills, baking/bread making, to name some of the curriculum content.

CRC is incredibly fortunate to have supporters like Fairlawn Avenue United Church, who are committed to making our community a better place for everyone, one in which women, men and families are healthier, more engaged in their community, and more empowered in their lives. An acknowledgement receipt is attached. If you require additional information, please contact Judy White, Director of Development at 416-363-4234, extension 238 or judyw@tcrc.ca.

Sincerely,

Claire Barcik
Executive Director
