

Lois Court

November 1, 1925 ~ January 14, 2022

Friendship, Love and a Wicked Card Shark. Lois Marie Court (nee Garner), known by her family as Cloie, Grammy, Gramma and now, Great-Grammy and GiGi, has joined her husband, Colin, twin sister, Ruth and grandson, Brendan. She will be greatly missed by her family: Debra Stewart (John), David (Alice), Cathy Beatty (Bill), her six grandchildren (Trisha, Brian, Colin, Abby, Kristen and Jessica) and her four great-grandchildren (Noah, Ava, Theo and Millie).

Lois was born in Toronto in 1925, with her twin sister, Ruth, into a large family of ten. In fact, she was already an aunt by the time she was born. She and Ruth danced professionally for the Broadway Kids Hollywood Show throughout the 1930s and to pass along her love of dance, Lois taught each of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren the Hokey Pokey almost as soon as they could walk.

Lois and Colin loved to travel; starting with camping trips around Atlantic Canada and the eastern United States, the two quickly expanded to Europe, Asia and New Zealand. In particular, they enjoyed walking around London, taking in the sights and stopping at a neighbourhood pub for lunch.

Lois was a secret card shark: bridge with new and longtime friends, cribbage, euchre or a game of 'fish' with her family (where many a grandchild learned Grammy was no pushover). A constant force for fun, Lois made friends wherever she went – her library and bridge groups, the Cricket Club, Florida and her wonderful friends at Canterbury Place.

We will all miss Lois's happy smile, her incredibly positive outlook on life, never-ending curiosity and abiding interest in the people and events around her. We know Lois would want to thank the amazing staff at Canterbury Place.
